

CrowdCapture Terms & Conditions

Last updated: August 2026

Welcome to CrowdCapture. By using this website, you agree to these Terms & Conditions. If you do not agree, please do not use the site.

Using ‘CrowdCapture.photos’ and ‘CrowdCapture.events’

You may use this website for lawful, personal, and non-commercial purposes. You must not interfere with the website, attempt to access it without permission, or use it in a way that could harm us or others.

Information on this site

We aim to keep the information on this website accurate and up to date, but it is provided for general information only. We may change, update, or remove content at any time without notice.

Intellectual property

Unless otherwise noted, the content on this website—including text, images, logos, and design—is owned by or licensed to CrowdCapture. Do not copy, reproduce, or distribute it without our written permission.

Third-party links

Our website may link to third-party websites. We do not control those websites and are not responsible for their content, privacy practices, or availability.

Refunds

You may request a refund until the first picture is uploaded. Once a picture has been uploaded, payments are non-refundable.

Photo content

Please upload only appropriate photos. Do not upload content that is illegal, sexually explicit, violent, hateful, harassing, defamatory, or otherwise offensive. You must also have the right to share each photo and respect the privacy and intellectual-property rights of others.

We use automated AI tools to review photos as they are uploaded and help identify unsuitable content. This screening is not 100% accurate or guaranteed. We may remove content or restrict access when we believe it violates these terms.

Limitation of liability

To the extent permitted by law, CrowdCapture is not liable for any loss or damage arising from your use of, or inability to use, this website.

Changes to these terms

We may update these Terms & Conditions from time to time. The latest version will always be posted on this page.
